learn * network * collaborate * share * swap

In this workshop, we'll collaborate with each other and mindful technology supports to grow students into engaged, capable, competent, and disciplinary thinkers who are ready for college, career, and civic life.

What do your students struggle with the most in social studies?

Knowledge & vocabulary

The vehicle students need to think like social scientists - language and knowledge

Engaging in civic discourse

Skills in annotation, discourse, and lively but productive discussions

Unlocking complex information

Disciplinary literacy skills needed to read and understand maps, charts, tables, and primary sources

Writing effectively

Effective written expression to communicate learning

BRING THE FOLLOWING:

- an activity, resource, strategy, idea, or question to share
- instructional materials from a preferred course
- examples of assignments and assessments.
- your device
